LEE CHU'S TRIP.

Will Ship Several Cargoes of Lumber to This Port.

A recent number of The Call has a double-column picture of Lee Chu and gives him the following flattering notice:

"Humboldt County whose Caucasian inhabitants ten years ago expelled its Chinese population and have ever since prohibited the settlement or even landing of any of the Mongolian race, will soon be visited by one of the proscribed people, who will doubtlessly be received with open arms. This will be a wealthy Chinese, at present registered at the Grand Hotel, in the person of Lu Chu, president of the Oahu Lumber Company at Honolulu. He has come to purchase several cargoes of lumber, principally redwood, with which to stock his island yards, and with that object in view will leave for Eureka tomorrow to contract for the direct shipment of the redwood from Humboldt Bay, and, incidentally, to inspect the forests and methods of manufacturing lumber. With the exception of retaining his queue he is thoroughly Caucasianized in manners and dress, and this with his mission to Humboldt will no doubt secure him a favorable reception in that anti-Chinese community. By the lumbermen of this city Mr. Chu is believed to be the only one of his race engaged extensively in that business, and in view of that fact a movement is on foot among them to have him initiated into their fraternal order, the 'Hoo Hoo's.'"

IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.

England Controls those Waters by the Most Powerful Fleet Known.

New York, N. Y., April 30.—The Journal's copyrighted London special says: England at this moment is supreme in the Mediterranean. No less than thirty-four of her battleships and cruisers are in those waters ready for action. One quarter of these are the heaviest warships afloat.

The nominal naval force England maintains in that sea is from ten to fourteen vessels. That number has been supposed to equal any emergency. What the real object of the enormous British concentration is remains to be seen. Great Britain is now in a position to practically dictate in the Mediterranean. There is no force there, even including the combined forces of the powers, able to withstand the overwhelming British aggregation.

Minister Sewall's Father.

Arthur Sewall, the wealthy ship builder of Bath, Me., who has been here for three weeks past, says the Call, and whose son, H. M. Sewall, was a few days ago appointed Minister to Hawaii, has been taking life easy since his arrival in California. He has been in and out of San Francisco every few days seeing near-by places of interest, and yesterday he packed his grip again and set forth from the Palace, accompanied by a friend, to be gone for two or three days more. Mr. Sewall the elder seems now entirely devoid of care. No one would ever think to look at him that he had ever worried over business, built a ship or ran for the Vice-Presidency of the United States.
